

Pluto

Through the Houses

Essences

Essences are energetic imprints of plants, gems or other types of influences on water. They are particularly suited to doing "Pluto work" because of their subtle nature.

Each essence is a blend of flower, gem, planetary and environmental essences specially formulated to assist the evolutionary potential of Pluto in a particular house.

While it is recommended that you begin with your natal house placement of Pluto, which establishes the desire of your soul in this lifetime, you may choose to work with the house where Pluto is currently transiting in your chart.

You may also wish to work with both natal and transiting Pluto.

Essences only have a positive effect. They cannot harm you in any way.
